Touch Screen Wireless Internet Frames Allow Mom to View & Share Photos, Listen to Internet Radio, Watch Videos and View Personalized News Updates from Virtually Anywhere in the Home

ATLANTA (April 27, 2009) – This Mother's Day consider a gift that keeps mom connected and in touch with the current events of the day and the treasured family memories of the past. The Intouch IT7150 wireless Internet frame seamlessly transfers digital content from the PC or internet to a portable touch screen frame making it easy for mom to view and share photos, listen to live Internet radio or WEB TV and receive the latest news on her favorite hobbies in a comfortable home setting. Digital photo frames have been hot for a while, but the Intouch IT7150 is the first wireless Internet frame to combine multimedia content on an all touch screen, making it the most versatile and easy to use frame on the market today.

All Touch Screen, RSS News Feeder Puts Customized News at Mom's Fingertips

The Intouch IT7150 features a convenient all touch screen operation. With its RSS news feeder capability, mom can stay up-to-date on the latest headline news, as well as receive tips of the day from parenting sites or even special hobbies such as cake decorating and skydiving. The Intouch frame comes pre-programmed with commonly used news sources with the option to add personalized feeds, based on mom's unique lifestyle and news preferences. She simply types in her favorite RSS news feeds on the frame's soft QWERTY touch screen keyboard and has access to a plethora of digital information at her fingertips without having to be confined to the home office.

Sharing Family Photos with Grandma Is a Breeze

Surprise mom by uploading cherished family photos into the Intouch IT7150's internal frame memory ahead of time. Mom has the flexibility to view photos with a memory card or by connecting the frame to a networked PC via wireless or USB cable. Friends and family can also add photos directly to the frame, making it fun for everyone to stay up-to-date even over long distances. With a free subscription to FrameChannel, a web-based content provider, mom can also access and share photos stored on her favorite photo websites like Facebook®, Flickr™, Webshots® and Picasa®, so even grandma can view the latest photos of the grandkids without ever touching the PC.

FrameChannel also offers over 400 channels of news, weather, traffic and sports content that mom can select personally and have automatically delivered to her frame.

Relax & Stay Connected with Portable News, Video & Music

In addition to viewing and sharing photos, the Intouch IT7150 provides additional news and entertainment value as a portable multi media player featuring audio and video playback and live Internet radio or WEB TV. Mom can unwind on the patio and still listen to her favorite music or talk radio show with access to over 12,000 radio and TV stations on the Internet.
